

BEYOND RESISTANCE, CTU IS

Advancing the Schools Our Students Deserve

For too long, teachers and school staff have had to fight just to lessen the painful cuts that Daley and Rahm made to our schools. In that time, a movement for education and racial justice in this city and country has blossomed. Soon, we'll have a new mayor and CPS is in a better financial position. We have the opportunity to fight and win. CTU educators aren't just resisting, anymore. We're on the march for a better tomorrow!

Here's what we're fighting for in our upcoming contract with CPS.

You can help!

Get updates on contract talks and support events.

Text "PARENT" to 69238

Message & data rates may apply.

Smaller Class Sizes

In a classroom with 30 or 40 students, children can't get enough attention. This hurts students of color most. Teachers and Aides want a solid guarantee with airtight contract language they can give students the personal attention they deserve.

Student Support Staffing

Our schools need more social workers and nurses. They need librarians to teach them to spot fake news. Many students need bilingual or special education teachers and aides, and we need more school psychologists to make sure kids get the services they deserve and require by law!

Pay, Healthcare & Benefits

Teachers Aides, School Clerks and other paraprofessionals—mostly Black and Latinx women— aren't always paid a living wage. Teachers should see paychecks grow over their career without insurance gobbling up the difference. Put some respect on that check! For the schools our students deserve, CPS needs to pay educators what we deserve.

CHICAGO
TEACHERS
UNION

Produced in-house by union staff

BEYOND RESISTANCE, CTU IS

Advancing the Schools Our Students Deserve

For too long, teachers and school staff have had to fight just to lessen the painful cuts that Daley and Rahm made to our schools. In that time, a movement for education and racial justice in this city and country has blossomed. Soon, we'll have a new mayor and CPS is in a better financial position. We have the opportunity to fight and win. CTU educators aren't just resisting, anymore. We're on the march for a better tomorrow!

Here's what we're fighting for in our upcoming contract with CPS.

You can help!

Get updates on contract talks and support events.

Text "PARENT" to 69238

Message & data rates may apply.

Smaller Class Sizes

In a classroom with 30 or 40 students, children can't get enough attention. This hurts students of color most. Teachers and Aides want a solid guarantee with airtight contract language they can give students the personal attention they deserve.

Student Support Staffing

Our schools need more social workers and nurses. They need librarians to teach them to spot fake news. Many students need bilingual or special education teachers and aides, and we need more school psychologists to make sure kids get the services they deserve and require by law!

Pay, Healthcare & Benefits

Teachers Aides, School Clerks and other paraprofessionals—mostly Black and Latinx women— aren't always paid a living wage. Teachers should see paychecks grow over their career without insurance gobbling up the difference. Put some respect on that check! For the schools our students deserve, CPS needs to pay educators what we deserve.

CHICAGO
TEACHERS
UNION

Produced in-house by union staff