I. Introduction

The Board of Education (Board) and the Chicago Teachers Union (Union) are providing this Guidance to high school administrators, Professional Problems Committees, union delegates, teachers and staff to assist them in making decisions on their school's 2021-22 daily schedule and the use of the teachers' paid "flex PD days". The Board and the Union agree that these decisions are best made collaboratively between professional staff and administration, after considering the diverse interests and needs of school community members, including teachers, PSRPs, staff, students, parents, local school councils and neighborhood residents. A directory of contacts for assistance in adopting schedules is contained in Appendix I to this Guidance.

II. Background - The Joint Board-Union Committees

The Board approved the 2021-2022 academic calendar at its March 24, 2021 meeting. As with last year, the calendar gives schools some discretion over the use of three of the ten teacher paid professional development days. High school administrations and Professional Problems Committees (PPCs) should consider how teachers' flex PD days might be used in developing their daily schedules.

A joint CPS-CTU committee created model High School schedules (contained in Appendix B) in Spring 2013. The committee included union representatives, high school teachers, and CPS administrators. Its work was informed by input from CPS principals and teachers from the neighborhood, magnet, and alternative high schools as well as central office administrators responsible for transportation, food service, security, and maintenance.

III. The 2021-22 Academic Calendar for CTU teachers and PSRPs

The 2021-22 academic year calendar is linked in Appendix A. The calendar includes 208 paid days for teachers and PSRPs (except for school clerks who have 211 paid days). Those 208 days include:

- 190 work days (193 work days for school clerks) for CTU staff
- 10 paid professional development days for PSRPs
- 10 paid professional development days for teachers, 3 of which are flex PD days
- 10 paid vacation days for teachers and PSRPs
- 8 paid holidays for teachers and PSRPs

A note about the term “professional development” (PD) day: The Board’s calendar has three types of “professional development” days: Teacher Institute Days, School Improvement Days and Professional Development Days. The Board-CTU collective bargaining agreement (CBA) makes no such distinctions and only refers to PD days, which include all three types. For consistency with the agreement, this Guidance uses the term PD Day to include Teacher Institute Days, School Improvement Days and Professional Development Days. Note that three PD Days are fully teacher directed: August 27, 2021, April 8, 2022, and June 15, 2022. All other PD time is principal-directed.

A description of how teachers flex PD days may be used and how decisions are made on their use are topics discussed in Section V, infra.

Note that employees in bargaining units other than the CTU bargaining unit work fewer days. The days that they will not be scheduled to work in SY2021-22 are set forth in Appendix G.

The calendar for teachers and PSPRs includes the following:

IV. High School Scheduling Options

High school scheduling requires four decisions:

- (1) whether the school will maintain the current (2020-2021) school schedule for the 2021-2022 school year;
- (2) whether the school principal will ask the Department of Transportation and the Network to change its start and end time inquiries;
- (3) selection of the daily schedule (number and length of periods); and
- (4) the use of teachers' paid flex PD days.

A. Maintain the current schedule or proceed to schedule vote.

Just as with the process for the current school year's schedule, schools should start the scheduling process by discussing whether to maintain their current bell schedule and schedule for use of flex PD days. If a school, specifically through agreement between the principal/ school administration and the PPC, decides to maintain the exact same schedule for SY 2021-22 as was utilized for SY 2020-21, a vote is not required. However, if any changes are made to the start/end times, bell schedule, or PD day schedule, the school must proceed with the negotiated voting process.

B. School start and end times change requests.

(Note: Starting and ending times used in this Guidance or in the model schedules are illustrative only.) The Department of Transportation in consultation with your Network will ultimately determine a school's start and end times, consistent with Articles 4-3 and 5-3 of the CBA, to ensure that it can efficiently schedule and design bus routes for all schools. While the Department of Transportations strongly recommends that schools maintain their current start and end times, you can consult with the Transportation to determine if transportation considerations affect your scheduling options by emailing Leonardo Franco at lfranco6@cps.edu. The subject line should indicate: School name/SY 2021-22- Bell time inquiry.

C. Selecting a Daily Schedule.

Selecting the daily schedule is a three-step process:

- (1) in consultation with the PPC, choose which two (2) models to give faculty to vote on (or choose the default model in which case no vote is necessary);
- (2) conduct any necessary schedule or waiver vote; and
- (3) notify the CTU and the CPS Office of Labor Relations of the school's decision.

STEP 1: Consultation between the PPC and School Administration

When considering what choices of schedules to put to a faculty vote, administrators and the school PPC should take into account special needs within your school community including any unique impacts a schedule may have on diverse learners or special educators. The school's decision should be informed by various stakeholders within the school community including the network chief, teachers, staff, administrators, students, parents, and the local school council.

The principal and PPC should attempt to come to a consensus on whether to:

- adopt the contractual default schedule (Model 1),
- elect two models on which faculty who are union members may vote (which may include Model 1),
- create a non-model (unique) schedule that meets legal parameters described below and submit that model to a vote by all teacher union members assigned to the school.

Non-Models (Unique) Schedule Parameters

If a school wishes to have union members at the school consider a non-model (unique) daily schedule developed locally, the daily schedule must meet the following parameters:

Element	Parameter
Student credits	Typically students should be able to earn a minimum of 3.5 credits per semester
Students' instructional minutes	No less than 1734 minutes per 5 day week and no less than 300 minutes per day
Student lunches	125 minutes per week (25 minutes per day) minimum
Teacher total on-site minutes	2155-2275 minutes per 5-day week
Teacher total instructional minutes	No more than 1250 minutes per 5 day week
Teachers' self-directed preparation	340-360 minutes per 5-day week
Teachers' principal directed preparation	140-160 minutes per 5-day week
Length of Day	Half-days are not permitted

Colloquium Schedules: The CPS-CTU joint committee recognizes that Colloquium schedules are of growing popularity among students and teachers. But because those schedules require unique consideration of a variety of conditions within the school community, the sense of the Joint Committee was that they should be adopted using the waiver process. We have included a sample colloquium schedule in Appendix H for schools to consider.

STEP 2: Voting

The following process should be observed in voting on a schedule.

- For the selection of one of the Model Schedules (i.e. a schedule vote).
 - a. A faculty union member meeting (either virtual or appropriately socially distanced) should be conducted at which the school administration and the union delegate describe the alternatives being submitted, express the merits of each, and provide faculty with information on community input.
 - b. The school principal and the union delegate must draft a ballot that will be used in the vote. The ballot must describe the two Model numbers and their descriptive names and the schedules must be attached. See, Form 2 for a facsimile ballot. The union delegate must send the draft ballot to the CTU and the union's membership department will craft the virtual ballots for electronic voting. See, Form 6 for a ballot.
 - c. The school principal and union delegate should select a date and time for conducting the vote and give the faculty union members 48-hours advanced notice of the vote. The Union delegate is responsible for posting and email delivery of the notices, as well as distributing the CTU ballots. See, Form 1 for a notice.
 - d. The union delegate must prepare a list of eligible voters from the CTU, i.e., union teacher members.
 - e. On the day of the vote, the union delegate must conduct the vote at the appointed time and place. Voting must be done by secret ballot, by voter completion of the ballot and voter submission of the ballot using the electronic process. The union delegate must accept ballots from all faculty members who present themselves to vote. If there is an issue regarding a faculty member's union membership, the voter must deposit their ballot in a designated a Supplemental Ballot paper or electronic envelope.

- f. After voting is complete, the union delegate and a school administrator designated by the principal shall count the undisputed ballots and certify the results on a High School Schedule Vote Certification form. (See, Form 3 for certification). The completed Certification, ballot and schedule must be sent to the CTU at modelschedulevote@ctulocal1.org and the Board's Office of Labor Relations at laborrelationshs@cps.edu. The voting results should also be reported on the Google Form located at 2021-22 Schedule Vote Responses.
 - g. If the number of disputed ballots will not affect the results of the vote, the certification is final. If the disputed ballots could change the result, the Union's financial secretary will determine the eligibility of those voters, count their votes and certify the results to the principal. (See, Form 4 for certification). The voting results should be reported on the Google Form located at 2021-22 Schedule Vote Responses.
- For the selection of a non-model unique schedule (i.e., a waiver vote)
 - a. A staff meeting of all CTU-union members at the school should be conducted during the school day as outlined in Appendix C of the CTU collective bargaining agreement (pg. 367) at which the school administration and the Union delegate describe the alternative being submitted, express the merit of each, and provide staff at the meeting with information on community input.
 - b. The school principal and the union delegate must draft a ballot that will be used in the vote, which should state that the union members are waiving the provisions of Article 6-1 and 6-2 and any other applicable provisions and adopting a schedule for the 2021-22 school year which is attached to the ballot. The union delegate must send the draft ballot to the CTU and the union's membership department to generate the electronic ballots. See, Form 6 for a ballot. This ballot is a Yes-No vote on the waiver.
 - c. The school principal and union delegate should select a date and time for conducting the vote and give the faculty union members 48-hours advanced notice of the vote. The Union delegate is responsible for posting and email delivery of the notices, as well as distributing the CTU ballots. See, Form 1 for a notice.
 - d. The Union delegate must obtain a list of eligible voters from the CTU, i.e., all union members employed at the school.
 - e. On the day of the vote, the Union delegate must conduct the vote at the appointed time and place. Voting must be done by secret ballot, with voters completing a ballot and then submitting the ballot using the electronic process. The Union delegate must accept ballots from all staff in CTU-represented titles who present themselves to vote. If there is an issue regarding union membership, the voter must place that ballot in an envelope with their name and deposit it in a designated a Supplemental Ballot envelope.

- f. After voting is complete, the union delegate and a school administrator designated by the principal shall count the undisputed ballots and certify the results on a High School Schedule Vote Certification form. (See, Form 3 for certification). The completed Certification, ballot and schedule results must be sent to the CTU at modelschedulevote@ctulocal1.org and the Board's Office of Labor Relations at laborrelationshs@cps.edu. The voting results should also be reported on the Google Form located at 2021-22 Schedule Vote Responses.
- g. If the number of disputed ballots will not affect the results of the vote, the certification is final. If the disputed ballots could change the result, the Union's financial secretary will determine the eligibility of those voters, count their votes and certify the results to the principal. (See, Form 4 for facsimile certification). The voting results should be reported on the Google Form located at 2021-22 Schedule Vote Responses.
- h. If the waiver vote is unsuccessful, the school administration in consultation with the PPC may elect to adopt the contractual schedule or a conduct a model schedule vote in which one of the choices is the contractual model (Model 1).

V. Using Teachers' Flex PD Days

Once the school has settled on its daily schedule the school should then consider how to use its flex PD days by following the waiver vote process. August 23, August 24, and June 16 are designated as teachers flex PD days and may be used in alternative ways as described below.

The following are the choices schools have for use of teachers' flex PD days, which are detailed more fully in Appendix C:

1. Use the flex PD days as they are designated in the calendar. No waiver vote necessary for this choice.
2. Use the flex PD days in hourly increments across the school year before or after school (perhaps in conjunction with a late start/early dismissal schedule - See Appendix B, Model 4).

3. Use the flex PD days in daily increments on break times before the start of the school year or during winter or Spring break.
4. A combination of choices 1-3.

Note: Half-day PD during the School Year or extension of the school year for students are not options in deciding the use of flex PD days.

The school administration should consult with the PPC to select one teacher flex PD model choice on which all staff who are union members may vote. The choices are contained in Appendix C in this Guidance. The school principal and the union delegate should conduct a Waiver Vote as outlined in Appendix C of the CTU collective bargaining agreement on whether the school should adopt a teacher flex PD model choice. If the union members reject the choice, the PD shall be used on the days designated in the calendar (i.e., on August 23, August 24 , and June 16).

The school should notify the Labor Relations Office of the choice on the same Google form located at the following link: 2021-22 High School Schedule Responses.

VI. Timeline and Assistance

High schools should make their daily schedule and flex PD day decisions by June 9, 2021. Principals and other members of high school administration should contact CPS offices for assistance. CTU delegates, teachers and PSRPs should contact CTU offices for assistance. A list of contacts is included in Appendix I for your convenience. After the schedule and use of the PD days have been established, high schools should transmit a copy of the schedule and PD usage decision to Labor Relations and the Network Chief.

Appendix B

The Model High School Schedules

The Board and the Union have agreed on five model schedules for high schools including the contractual model high school schedule.

Please note the following with respect to schedules.

- Start and end times. Times used in these models are illustrative. CPS' Department of Transportation will determine/approve start and end times for most schools in order to ensure that it can accommodate busing schedules.
- Preparation periods. The collective bargaining agreement requires that high school teachers have ten preparation periods per week, seven of which are self-directed and require no student supervision and three of which are principal directed. Note that one fifty-minute principal directed preparation period per week may be designated as an advisory period for students (See, advisory periods).
- Designation of Lunch Periods. In each of the models in this section, there is typically one designated lunch break for students and teachers. That is done only for illustrative purposes and from the perspective of individual teachers/students. Schools obviously must schedule lunches over multiple periods and nothing in this Guidance should be construed to restrict that. (See, section on scheduling teacher lunches.)
- Teacher lunch periods. Teachers' lunches should be scheduled to occur during the periods that students are also having their lunches (e.g., if student lunches are scheduled for periods 4, 5, 6 and 7, teacher lunches should also be scheduled during those periods).
- Advisory Periods. Advisory periods are used for interventions, RTI work and other guidance of students. They are considered instructional. In addition to being able to include advisory as part of a principal-directed preparation, schools have two other options:

- o One is reflected in Model 2, in which instructional time is taken from other periods one day a week and made an advisory. That advisory is unpaid. Transition periods are shortened throughout the week so that teachers have 25-minutes less required on-site time per week.
 - o Another model is a 30 minute paid advisory per week in which some of a teachers' preparation one day per week may be used for a paid advisory. In that model, the teacher's day must be extended by 30 minutes. It is not included as one of the model schedules and must be employed as a unique model.
- Division/home-room. Division periods are not instruction periods. They are used primarily for attendance, announcements, and distribution of material. Because divisions are cohorts of students maintained over the schedule of a high school career, they provide opportunities for students to develop consistent relationships with faculty and fellow students. Note that Model III has a division period.
- Testing Day Schedules. The Model Schedules included here are general schedules. Both the Union and the Board recognize that during the course of the year, testing day schedules that accommodate testing will have to be employed. The models in this document do not affect those schedules, however, schools must ensure that all teachers are provided lunch on those days.
- Intervention. Intervention periods (sometimes called seminar) are periods of instruction focused on providing either additional instruction in content areas in which students are struggling or providing enrichment opportunities for students in the arts, sports, and other special interests.

Model 1- The Contractual Model

Eight 50-minute periods five days per week with seven 5-minute passing periods

APPENDIX C

Options for Use of Teachers' Flex PD Days

There are three paid HS teacher flex PD days of 7 hours and 15 minutes, which includes a 50-minute duty-free lunch. That is a total of 19 hours and 15 minutes or 1,155 minutes of teacher PD. They are scheduled in the academic calendar for August 23, August 24, and June 16. Faculty at high schools who are union members may be given the option of using these days in different ways through a waiver vote. If the faculty rejects that option, the days will be used as scheduled. The following are the options that may be offered to staff.

- Option 1 Use all 3 Flex Days as Scheduled (No vote required)
- Option 2 Move all 3 Flex Days to Break Days
- Option 3A All 3 Flex Days converted to 33 weeks of 35 minute PD before or after school
- Option 3B All 3 Flex Days converted to 21 weeks of 55 minute PD before or after school
- Option 3C All 3 Flex Days converted to 15 weeks of 77 minute PD before or after school
- Option 3D All 3 Flex Days converted to 11 weeks of 105 minute PD before or after school
- Option 4A Use 1 Flex Day either as scheduled or on breaks day and convert 2 Flex Days to 22 weeks of 35 minute PD before or after school
- Option 4B Use 1 Flex Day either as scheduled or on breaks day and convert 2 Flex Days to 14 weeks of 55 minute PD before or after school
- Option 4C Use 1 Flex Day either as scheduled or on breaks day and convert 2 Flex Days to 11 weeks of 70 minute PD before or after school
- Option 4D Use 1 Flex Day either as scheduled or on breaks day and convert 2 Flex Days to 7 weeks of 110 minute PD before or after school
- Option 4E Use 2 Flex Days either as scheduled or on breaks day and convert 1 Flex Day to 11 weeks of 35 minute PD before or after school
- Option 4F Use 2 Flex Days either as scheduled or on breaks day and convert 1 Flex Day to 7 weeks of 55 minute PD before or after school

Option 4G Use 2 Flex Days either as scheduled or on breaks day and convert 1 Flex Day to 3 weeks of 128 minute PD before or after school

A note about new teachers: teachers newly hired to the district cannot use a full flex PD day before August 23, 2021.

*PLEASE NOTE: If you are choosing options 2, 3, or 4, please use the attached school calendar (Appendix A) to indicate on which days the teachers will use their flex PD time. For example, circle or put an "X" through the date on which the flex PD time will be used.

NOTE FROM CPS' Learning Hub on Tracking and Implementation for Options 2, 3, and 4 above.

Requirements to implement and track the PD on flex days used through Options 2, 3, and 4 above are as follows:

- All professional development occurring on the Flex PD Days must be configured (loaded) as unique activities in CPS' Learning Hub by a designated member(s) of the school staff.

All activities scheduled on a given day/hourly increment must be configured uniquely if the topics vary (rather than the configuration of one generic, all-day activity titled "PD").

The configuration of professional development in CPS' Learning Hub is required for the district scheduled days (August 23, August 24, and June 16) or any day(s) used in lieu of those dates (full-days and hourly increments before and after school).

- Teacher attendance at the professional development must be marked in CPS' Learning Hub by the school designee in accordance with established policies and deadlines.
- Teachers must complete the required online evaluation in CPS' Learning Hub for all Flex PD Day activities.
- Teachers fulfilling the required Flex PD Day hours during break times are expected to swipe in and out, documenting their attendance via KRONOS.

The combination of KRONOS and CPS' Learning Hub data (swipes, activity details, and attendance status) will be used to calculate teacher and PSRP fulfillment of the required 18.75 hours of professional development for which they are being compensated.
